

STATE OF TEXAS
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

An important part of ensuring young Texans stay on a road to success is making sure they have a rigorous and well-rounded education. For some children, learning new things and succeeding in their classes is a smooth process. For others, additional or specialized instruction is necessary for their success. When young Texans need a greater helping hand, educational diagnosticians play a vital role.

Educational diagnosticians undergo specialized training to use academic and psychological tests to isolate factors that could enhance students' performance in the classroom. These professionals help provide our next generation of leaders with the knowledge and skills that are the building blocks of lifelong excellence by developing and recommending teaching strategies and materials.

As part of an ongoing effort to highlight their contributions and to demonstrate gratitude for their service, a week in March is designated each year as Educational Diagnosticians Week.

At this time, I encourage all Texans to recognize the invaluable contributions of educational diagnosticians in our education system. Their hard work helps ensure a better future for young Texans and the Lone Star State.

Therefore, I, Greg Abbott, Governor of Texas, do hereby proclaim March 2-6, 2020, to be

Educational Diagnosticians Week

in Texas, and urge the appropriate recognition whereof.

In official recognition whereof,
I hereby affix my signature this the 7th day of February, 2020.

Governor of Texas
